An aerial photograph of a vast landscape during the golden hour of sunset. In the foreground, a dense forest of tall, thin trees is illuminated by warm, golden light, with some trees showing early autumn colors. A winding river flows through the middle ground, reflecting the bright sky. Beyond the river, a wide, open field stretches towards the horizon, dotted with small clusters of trees and patches of water. In the far distance, rolling hills and mountains are visible under a hazy, golden sky. The overall scene is peaceful and scenic.
